cold turkey at home for me meant I had to keep liquid diazepam on me at all times in case of fits and spasms.

It would give security services a way to track them, intimidate them, or close them down.

These fatty acids are called 'essential' because the body is no more able to manufacture them than it can make vitamins or minerals, which is why it is essential to include them in our diet.